

Sarah Barton is the Senior Projects Manager for Coplin Health Systems, a nonprofit federally funded health care center serving in Jackson, Wirt, and Wood Counties, WV and Meigs County Ohio. Her role is to identify and support partnerships throughout the region and to identify funding opportunities to expand and enhance services.

Sarah has over 20 years of experience working with nonprofit organizations. Sarah formerly served as Senior Analyst for Ethos Leadership Group, Director of Advancement at Ohio Valley University, and as Executive Director of Marion County Foundation (WV).

Sarah earned her Master of Public Administration through West Virginia University. In addition she holds a bachelor degree in Child Development and Family Studies. This unique blending of expertise helps her flawlessly transition work between social and business sectors.

Sarah is married to Mitchell, and they have three children, two sons and a daughter. When not working, Sarah enjoys traveling, cooking and baking with her children, photography, memory-keeping and furniture restoration.